

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

-----X
ALROY D. RICHARDS,

Plaintiff,

-against-

ORDER

20-cv-3348 (RA) (JW)

CITY OF NEW YORK COMPTROLLER et al.,

Defendants.

-----X
JENNIFER E. WILLIS, United States Magistrate Judge:

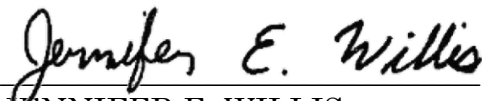

This matter had previously been referred for settlement. Dkt. No. 9. The Court ordered the Parties to confer on available dates for a conference. Dkt. No. 105.

Defendants then filed a letter saying they, “respectfully prefer not to proceed with a settlement conference as Defendants believe that a conference would not be productive given Plaintiff’s settlement demand.” Dkt. No. 114.

Given that a conference would not be a productive use of the Parties’ or the Court’s time, the conference is adjourned sine die (in other words, without a new date). If in the future, the Parties collectively feel that settlement discussions would be productive, they should email the courtroom deputy with three mutually agreeable dates.

SO ORDERED.

DATED: New York, New York
August 15, 2023

JENNIFER E. WILLIS
United States Magistrate Judge
